Issue Strike Call To Farm Unions In Saskatchewan

All Local Bodies to Decide on Joining Alberta Farmers to Force Parity Prices

SASKATOON, Sept. 17 (CP).—The Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada today issued a "strike call" to its estimated 35,000 farm-family members in support of the Alberta Farmers' Union, whose 20,000 members are staging a non-delivery strike in an effort to have a fact-finding board on farmers' parity prices established.

Frank Eliason, secretary of the U.F.C., said the call was made after some 150 locals had asked the executive to urge all farmers in the province to organize for strike action.

He said it was a "reiteration of the previous call." Last September, when the first call was made in the U.F.C. members, Mr. Eliason said arrangements were being made for the necessary housing to all locals of strike orders and instructions for carrying out necessary picketing.

However, he explained, the action taken on this call, as on the first, depends on the decisions of the various locals themselves. The U.F.C. executive, because of its constitution, can not order local units to strike action, but individual locals have the authority to do so.

"Now that a strike has been called, the next move is up to the Federal Government. . . If the Government agrees to the setting up of a fact-finding board, the A.F.U. and U.F.C. will meet to discuss what further action is necessary," Mr. Eliason stated.

He said farmers had been asked to withhold all products except those milk to the cities.

After the first call urging U.F.C. members to support the A.F.U.'s strike, locals affiliated with the Saskatchewan organization held meeting to decide themselves what action they should take. Reports indicate that since that time, U.F.C. farmer-members have increasingly given their support to the Alberta farmers.

Violence Raging In Greece

May Enforce Martial Law

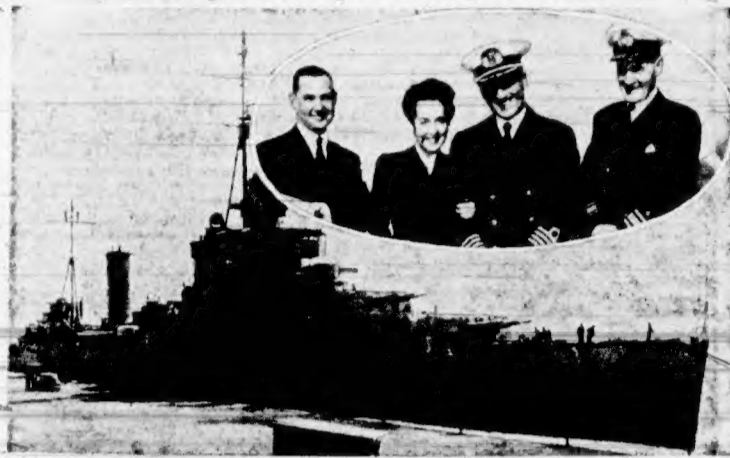

ATHENS, Sept. 17 (AP).—An authoritative source said today martial law might be clamped down throughout Greece because of mounting violence in the northeast where the gendarmerie is battling leftist bands estimated at more than 10,000.

The informant said the Cabinet has considered application of martial law first in the areas affected by the renewed leftist activity, and then, if necessary, throughout the entire country.

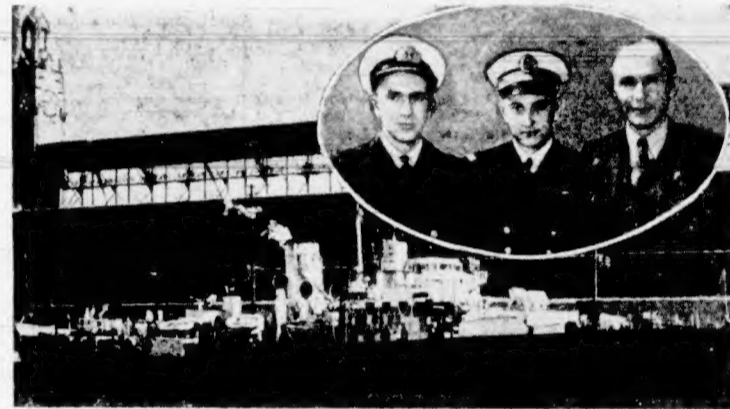

Demetrius Panayides, secretary-general of the Communist-dominated E.A.M. (National Liberation Front), said there were more than 10,000 "freedom fighters in the free hills" who had been driven there by "excesses of the Monarcho-Fascist Government which is controlled by Britain."

The principal theatre of action at present is the rich plain of Thessaly, at present main lines of communications between Athens and Salonika.

Foreign Warships Visiting Montreal

Also in port but for a ten-day stay is the French Corvette Lobelia, shown as she lay alongside at Victoria Pier. The Lobelia fought side by side with Canadian vessels in North Atlantic convoy during the war. Inset, left to right: Cmdr. G. R. Tottenham, R.C.N.; Lt. All Squatters To Move Out

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP).—Britain's Communist-led luxury squatters bowed before court and police opposition tonight and began evacuating the plush apartment buildings they commandeered 18 days ago in a revolt against the government's housing program.

Dozens moved out of the Ivanhoe Hotel in Bloomsbury, and a spokesman for 300 squatters entrenched in the Duchess of Bedford House in fashionable Kensington said they would "all march out together" Friday, hoping for "humane consideration" from public authorities.

Strikers Outline Proposal

Have New Plans To Settle Tie-Up

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP).—Conditions under which it will advise its striking members in three Canadian cities to go back to work were outlined today by the National Advisory Committee of the United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.) in a statement issued following a committee meeting.

The statement said the union would sponsor a back-to-work movement if the employers and the Government would agree to wage adjustments of 15 1/2 cents an hour made up of 10 cents an hour retroactive to last April 1 as proposed by the Government and "further wage adjustments of 5 1/2 cents per hour, to be effective from the date of settlement, the form of which to be the subject of negotiations."

The conditions also called for removal of the differential between wages at Sydney, N.S., and those in basic steel plants in other parts of the country, vacations with pay, and arbitration of questions of union security, hours of work and compensation for cost of living increases.

Won't Educate City Children

If Victoria plans to use Macaulay Camp in Esquimalt for emergency shelter purposes as planned, then the city will have to bear all the cost of educating children housed there and pay hospitalization and other costs, it was decided at a meeting of the Esquimalt council last night.

The city will be advised of the decision immediately.

Reeve Thomas Hatfield said he had already made it clear, when the proposal was mooted earlier this year, that Esquimalt did not want any more temporary housing.

Reeve Hatfield told the council he had been negotiating with R. W. Mayhew, M.P., for establishment of a federal camp in Esquimalt. A postal official from V. Vancouver visited the municipality Monday, he reported, and some changes in the present setup had been promised.

Smith who had spent the summer searching for the vein known to exist somewhere along the mountainside, said he believed he had discovered the most valuable vein of gold in the high-grade district.

He said the Colorado Assaying Company of Denver, estimated the vein run from samples at $435.80 a ton.

The Gold Shore Mining Company originally was worked by George Cline of Alturas, Calif., who spent two years searching for the vein. He died not knowing that he had missed it by only 15 feet, Smith said.

Would Park Cars Under Building

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP).—Alderman John Bennett suggested to city council here today that a gigantic parking lot be carved out beneath the lawns of the Court House, to help alleviate the present parking situation. He added that council should set to have Canadian Pacific Railway extend a docking out over their passenger yards to further ease the shortage of parking space.

Council announced that the shortage will become even more acute if the bill, currently before the council, is passed, banning all parking on Granville and Hastings Streets from Robson to Carleton during the morning and afternoon rush hours.

"The atomic bomb has blown our moral air out of court," the 96-year-old playwright said in reply to a written question.

After using the bomb without warning or demonstration, and repeating it unnecessarily, we are hardly in a moral position to hang anybody, however logically."

In a script which for the first time betrayed a slight shakiness of hand, Shaw added: "I agree with Dr. Inge."

He referred to recent expressions published in a London newspaper, by Dr. W. R. Inge, the celebrated former "Gloomy Dean" of St. Paul's Cathedral.

"The tribunal," Dr. Inge summarized, "should issue a calm and well-documented statement of the crimes and should then let them—the Nazi defendants—go with the brand of Cain on their foreheads. Perhaps

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP).—A letter from Commerce Secretary Wallace to President Truman urging a sweeping overhaul of United States foreign and military policy, junking of the Baruch-Acheson atomic control plan and more conciliatory treatment of Russia was made public tonight with the President making last-minute efforts to head it off.

A perhaps historic mix-up on high levels of Government accompanied the latest episode in an international drama touched off by Mr. Wallace's speech last Thursday declaring what he termed the policy of "get tough with Russia."

The letter, it was explained, was written July 23 in response to a presidential request for Cabinet members' views on foreign policy. The Commerce Department said it was "fished" from the files and came into the hands of a columnist.

Mr. Wallace took the matter up with Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross, and they agreed it probably would be a good idea to make it public inasmuch as the columnist was distributing it. Mr. Ross told Mr. Wallace to go ahead and mimeograph it for the press.

Then Mr. Ross got in touch with the President and was told Mr. Truman did not wish to give his approval to the release of the letter, lest it be understood abroad that he was approving its contents. As Mr. Ross put it, Mr. Truman "disapproved" specifically the release of the letter.

But distribution to the press had started, and it was too late to head it off. Mr. Ross took full blame, if any. There was no censure of Mr. Wallace by the White House, which took the position he acted in good faith.

The Commerce Department did not name the columnist who obtained the letter.

The letter recalled Mr. Truman's invitation to Premier Stalin to visit the United States. The President previously had disclosed the invitation at a press conference, without discussing its purpose.

The letter said one of the points of American foreign policy, which Mr. Wallace sought to have changed or abandoned was "our interest in outlying bases and our general support of the British Empire."

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP).—The National Maritime Union (N.M.U.) restored a spark of life to the United States' prostrate shipping industry today by lifting its ban on the sailing of A.F.L.-manned ships and those flying foreign flags.

Shortening of the C.I.O. picket lines in the 13th day of the maritime strike meant the number of idle seamen soon would simmer down from the peak figure of 500,000 to about 90,000.

Although the Association of American Railroads did not immediately lift its embargo on rail shipments to the country's strike-stunned seaports, a spokesman said an increasing number of permits were being issued for cargo which could be handled by vessels freed from the impasse.

The action of N.M.U. President Joseph Curran in restricting his pickets to duty along piers where C.I.O.-contracted vessels were tied up also went a long way toward easing the threat of clashes with seamen from rival A.F.L. labor organizations.

The peace gesture by Curran, however, was accompanied by a reaffirmation of his union's determination to prolong its strike indefinitely, if necessary, to win wage equality with the A.F.L. seamen.

Only purpose of a further session of the Legislative Assembly in 1946 would be to pass legislation necessary to meet the situation that would arise should the Province be forced back into the income and corporation tax field.

But, as Premier Hart points out, if such legislative action should become necessary there would be ample time for it to be taken by the 1947 Spring session of the assembly before present wartime agreements with Ottawa expire March 31.

Mr. Hart indicated his intention to go to Ottawa at the end of this month or early in October after Finance Minister J. L. Halsey's return to the Federal capital to discuss impact of Mr. Halsey's budget proposals on British Columbia's tax structure and endeavor to work out a new Dominion-Provincial financial agreement that would afford a more equitable return to British Columbia. The Premier did not disclose what course he intends to pursue in Ottawa, but it is known that the Provincial Government is vitally concerned over Ottawa's refusal to accept financial responsibility for any unemployment that may possibly follow Canada's current period of jobs for all.

Flames Destroy Vancouver Plant

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP).—A three-alarm fire raged out of control for almost an hour at the Barrett Co. Ltd. plant in suburban Vancouver today while firemen from Maple and Vancouver battled an inferno in 200 barrels of blasting tar.

Damage was estimated unofficially at $30,000.

Firefighters confined the damage to a large refining still, the barrels, one side of a boiler room and two tank cars.

No one was injured although firemen and plant workers ignored the danger of exploding drums

Esquimalt to Get $12,000 As Payment on Roads

Indication that Esquimalt has won at least one round in its battle with the Federal Government for a grant in place of taxes on Government-owned property was given at a meeting of the municipal council last night when Reeve Thomas Hatfield announced that the National Defence Department had promised $12,000 for wear and tear on roads caused by military vehicles during the war.

The promise included return without charge to the municipality of a gravel pit at the end of Lamson Street purchased by the Government in 1943 for $2,750.

Reeve Hatfield said the sum represented roughly two-fifths of the $21,180 spent on roads and sidewalks used by military and naval vehicles and personnel during the war, and the estimated expenditure of $8,351 required to bring these roads and sidewalks to their prewar condition.

The revenue made a complete summary of the negotiations for the grant conducted through R. W. Mayhew, M.P., to whose efforts on behalf of Esquimalt he paid high tribute. At the suggestion of Councilor E. J. Read, the council passed a motion expressing its appreciation of the aid rendered by Mr. Mayhew.

The $12,000 grant received, however, is not what Esquimalt has been asking from the Government for the past quarter-century. Reeve Hatfield emphasized. The question was still one of an annual grant in lieu of taxes. National Defence property in the municipality and money for the upkeep of municipal services used by military and naval personnel.

Reeve Hatfield pointed out that the question of this grant had been a constant battle during the entire 24 years he has held civic office and indicated he had no intention of abandoning the struggle.

Stars and Stripes On Canada's Flag?

STRESSING the peculiar position of Canada as a member of the British Commonwealth and joint guarantor with the United States of the North American continent as the citadel and security of world peace, Senator G. G. McGeer suggested during a speech at the Empress Hotel yesterday that Canada's new flag might well have a Union Jack in one corner, the Stars and Stripes in the other, with a beaver and a Maple Leaf in between.

The suggestion was greeted with cheers and laughter by delegates to the Pacific Coast Building Officials' conference.

The meeting noted that Ogden Point docks were owned by the Canadian National Railway, and members felt the C.N.R. had taken a "tremendous revenue" out of Victoria and the lower part of the Island, but had made no material contribution toward the city, or the upkeep of the docks.

It was thought desirable that a campaign be inaugurated to familiarize local businessmen with ship routing procedures, to allow for the unloading of freight at this port, instead of being taken to Vancouver and trans-shipped here.

"Those closely associated with shipping circles of this city find it difficult to understand why such an asset and investment as the docking facilities at Ogden Point should be allowed to deteriorate as they have," remarked an attendant of the meeting.

Reeve Thomas Hatfield said he had already made it clear, when the proposal was mooted earlier this year, that Esquimalt did not want any more temporary housing.

May Ask Government For Deep Sea Docks

There is a possibility Ottawa will be asked to take action toward making facilities at Ogden Point docks available for deep-sea shipping.

This was mentioned yesterday at a special closed meeting of the Chamber of Commerce harbor and industrial development committee at which R. W. Mayhew was guest.

The meeting noted that Ogden Point docks were owned by the Canadian National Railway, and members felt the C.N.R. had taken a "tremendous revenue" out of Victoria and the lower part of the Island, but had made no material contribution toward the city, or the upkeep of the docks.

Liberal Failure in By-Election Seen as Protest to Government

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Post-mortems in political circles today on the significance of the Government's defeat in the Pontiac by-election produced a variety of opinions on the cause and consequences.

Observers agreed that the defeat at the hands of Real Caouette, 29-year-old garage manager and supporter of Social Credit theories, likely will mean a concerted Government drive for victory in the forthcoming by-elections in Toronto Parkdale and the Manitoba constituency of Portage la Prairie.

They also agreed that Prime Minister Mackenzie King likely will strive in his proposed Cabinet shuffle to avoid opening any seats until political winds are more favorable.

Some interpreted the vote in the by-election as a protest against the Government. Others attributed the result to good organization on the part of Mr. Caouette, who ran under the banner of L'Union des Electeurs de Pontiac, the name under which the Social Credit Party is known in Quebec.

Liberal supporters for the most part kept reserved their opinions, but one of them said Mr. Caouette had won through a "vast expenditure of energy and work."

The Liberals said Mr. Caouette had the support of the Bloc Populaire element in the constituency. The Bloc Populaire did not contest the by-election, but in the general election in June, 1945, that party's candidate took 4,485 votes.

Mr. Caouette and his supporters had also campaigned against the Government's action in moving the Canadian dollar to parity with the American dollar. This move had caused a reduction of $3.50 in the price of gold in Canada, much of which is produced in the northern part of Pontiac. The move had been described as one which would bring about a reduction of wages for gold mine workers.

"They hit us in the voters' pocket-book, where it really hurts," said the Liberal.

Mr. Caouette and his supporters interviewed at his home in Val d'Or, Que., said he is a "Social Credit 100 per cent" and that he was for "Social Credit on Social Credit matters." On any question which came up in the Commons not involving Social Credit matters he would consult his electors.

Poland Joins With Russia In Greek Case

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, said today that some countries are "yielding to the spirit of Munich" and called upon the United Nations Security Council to adopt Russia's proposal for immediate action in the Greek case.

Dr. Lange said that Poland's reply to the spirit of Munich was "still the same resolute 'no' which it gave in September, 1939."

He declared that the council must do "something immediately to avoid the possibility of conflict in the Balkans."

The Polish delegate, who yielded the council presidency today to Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko, thus joined Mr. Gromyko in opposition to a move by the Australian delegate, Paul Hasluck, to drop the case by passing on to the next session on the agenda. Brazil, the Netherlands and Great Britain have indicated support for Mr. Hasluck's motion.

Dr. Lange declared that "diminution of the confidence of smaller nations in this council."

Dr. Lange said there was in Greece "an unduly large number of persons who collaborated with the Nazis who not only are respected but actually are holding important positions."

Wallace Letter Published

And it disclosed that Mr. Wallace prepared a memorandum last March for Ambassador W. Bedell Smith to take to Moscow suggesting trade discussions. Whether the President gave it to Gen. Smith was not clear.

The 3,600-word letter went far beyond Mr. Wallace's controversy-ridden speech in New York of last Thursday in expressing anxiety over "the present trend toward conflict" and the secretary's conviction that drastic changes in the United States' attitude toward Russia are necessary to stop it.

In writing the letter, Mr. Wallace recalled to the President at the outset that "I checked with you about this last Thursday and you suggested after Cabinet meeting on Friday that you would like to have my views." The letter was dated the following Tuesday.

Thus it seemed clear that Mr. Truman had the opportunity to be familiar with the views of his Commerce Secretary when Mr. Wallace checked his New York speech with him before delivery. Mr. Truman told his press conference last Thursday that he approved the whole speech and, when asked whether it did not conflict with the foreign policy line followed by State Secretary Byrnes, replied that it was exactly in line. But on Saturday the President explained his approval extended only to Mr. Wallace's right to deliver the speech.

CHALLENGES PERSONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

As an upshot of the resulting storm, William L. Clayton, Under-Secretary of State, today challenged the wisdom and prudence of personal foreign policy statements by Government officials. He told his press conference that he presumes such speeches in future will be cleared with the State Department. Later he had an unheralded conference with Mr. Truman.

Mr. Wallace, who already has served notice that he expects to speak further on the subject, is to see the President tomorrow.

Mr. Wallace's July letter called for ascertaining "from a fresh point of view what Russia believes to be essential to her own security," judged "against the background of what we ourselves and the British have insisted upon," and continued: "We should be prepared, even at the expense of risking epithets of appeasement, to agree to reasonable Russian guarantees of security."

Mr. Wallace singled out two State Department policies for specific assault:

1. That Russia discuss her trade relations with other countries as a precondition for obtaining an American loan.
2. The American stand for internationalization of the Danube and the Dardanelles. Mr. Wallace wrote that "we would be horrified and angered by any Russian counter-proposal that would involve also the internationalization and disarming of Bux or Panama."

The repercussions from that speech—editorially, politically and diplomatically—have been so far-reaching that some diplomats expect the President to make a private appeal to Mr. Wallace to cease commenting on foreign policy in the interests of party harmony and international relations.

Reject Bids For Repairs On Kathleen

Only two of six shipyards approached submitted bids on the repair and reconstruction contract of the Princess Kathleen, and both tenders were rejected.

This was announced yesterday by Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service, and H. Workman, representative of the British Ministry of War Transport.

"The time required, and the high cost of the bidders were considered unsatisfactory," according to a statement issued yesterday by the two men.

Shipyards will be asked to submit a second bid, lower in cost and involving less time.

Tenders for the reconstruction of the Princess Kathleen were opened Monday morning in offices of Capt. Williams.

Capt. Williams has reported that 80 per cent of work required on the passenger ship will be in the interior of the vessel. There was little steel work to be done, he said.

When completed, and made into one of the most modern steamships serving in coastal waters, the Kathleen will be returned to the "triangle run"—Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle. She was commandeered by the British authorities early in November of 1941, and served during the war as a troop ship in waters of the Orient and the Mediterranean. Early last month she returned to Victoria direct from Naples.

Esquimalt Council Tables Suggestion

A suggestion by Councillor G. R. Guillemard that the slough in Saxe Point Park west of Fraser Street be filled with garbage under sanitary conditions and covered with earth was tabled for further consideration by Esquimalt Council last night.

He pointed out there were numerous other communities which had improved unsightly places in this manner.

He suggested that dumping be done in winter so that rain would increase disintegration.

Saving of $516 in barge dumping charges and the saving of haulage expenses to the wharf would provide sufficient funds for hauling earth to cover the garbage and lime to disinfect it, he contended.

Russian-American Row Reports Declared Greatly Exaggerated

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (AP)—Russian and American soldiers argued in a Berlin police station Saturday over the custody of an arrested man and woman, but the argument was settled peacefully, Col. K. C. Frank, United States provost marshal, said today.

The Russians claimed the man and woman were Soviet nationals, but the civilians denied it, Col. Frank said. The American and Russian provost marshals agreed to release the woman to Russian authorities and decided that the man should be detained by the Americans.

Col. Frank and two American military police officers declared reports of a Russian-American row over the incident were exaggerated. A Soviet major and soldier tried to arrest the two civilians in the American zone, and the civilians resisted arrest, American military police took all four to military police headquarters, he said, and the military police there to take the man and woman to Soviet Army Headquarters. The American military police in charge objected.

Col. Frank said the Russians protested, "but when we told them we

The Government will repay the debentures in full from debt redemption provisions specifically earmarked for that purpose.

Rehabilitation Council Handled 162 Housing Cases Since May

In the period from May to September the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council handled a total of 630 cases, of which 162 were housing problems, A. Palmer, executive secretary, reported at a meeting in the City Hall last night.

"Housing has been the most urgent problem during this period, and the least easy to solve," Mr. Palmer said.

He pointed out that there are now 132 families on the council's files who will have to be placed before the cold weather comes, and of these about 110 should be moved right at this moment.

A special form is filled out at the office for housing applications and complete particulars of the present housing accommodation are taken. Mr. Palmer said. These will be used in screening the applications for huts when some are available, and have been used for the past five months in allotting rooms at Balmoral House.

Mr. Palmer's report states that Balmoral House has provided a solu-

Aid for Families Of Soldiers Urged

The Citizens' Rehabilitation Council will urge Ottawa to set up an organization equivalent to the old Dependents' Board of Trust, now disbanded which took care of needy veterans' families.

It was pointed out at a meeting last night that benevolent organizations were active for the air force and navy, but the army had none since the abolition of D.B.T.

The council will suggest that ex-servicemen and Legionnaires be used as much as possible in the work, and that the new association be mainly concerned with army veterans' families.

It was also announced at the meeting that veterans' taking vocational training would be used as much as possible in the conversion of huts in the Victoria area.

Meat Retailers Close Today Under New Victoria By-Law

Meat retailers of Victoria will close all day today for the first time in accordance with a new by-law passed at their majority request recently by the City Council.

Many housewives are expected to be caught by surprise while attempting to do their usual round of Wednesday morning shopping.

Little opposition was expected by butchers from housewives now accustomed to many regulations, although some retailers protested the passing of the by-law.

Y.M.C.A. PLAN

Realizing the need of recreation for young businessmen and women and young married couples, as well as "teen-age" groups, the Y.M.C.A. has developed a new program under the boys' department for "teen-agers" which offers Monday night courses and Friday night dances.

For the older groups an extensive fall program has been planned and a new venture for the "Y" is now in effect in the form of "mixed groups."

Saturday night dances in future will cater to older groups, while the Friday night dances will be especially for "teen-agers." Teen-age activities will commence October 7.

At a meeting Monday night, Capt. N. Gray appealed for adequate recreational facilities for young people.

lined at the meeting of the Mission to Lepers by F. Bird, of Pasadena. The money would be used to build more hospitals and homes for the patients suffering from the dread disease, said Mr. Bird.

NEED BUSES

Additional buses to handle overloads is the only means of overcoming the difficulty of integrating the present B.C. Electric and Blue Line operations in Oak Bay and Victoria, W. C. Mainwaring, B.C. Electric vice-president said yesterday.

"In this connection, the Blue Line is even shorter of buses than the B.C. Electric," Mr. Mainwaring added. "Until such time as additional buses are received it would appear that both operations must remain intact."

Municipal Briefs Of the District

The finance committee is recommending to the City Council Thursday that anyone wishing to appear before that body to present a brief must make the entire submission in writing 24 hours in advance of the meeting.

Sanich council has advised the Greater Victoria School Board that it has agreed to remove a house from a municipally-owned lot on Alhambra Street to provide additional playground space for Tillicum School.

Sale of 16 city lots for a total of $5,442 will be recommended to the council Thursday, said Dewar, said yesterday. Five of the sales are to veterans for $757.

Hampton Road Hall will be rented by the Greater Victoria School Board to provide additional classroom space. Because of the large enrolment of primary students classes have had to be staggered up to the present with one group taking classes in the morning, the other in the afternoon.

The Greater Victoria School Board will submit a resolution to the convention of B.C. School Trustees asking the Department of Education to appoint a provincial director of school library services.

Councillor E. J. Read told Equilmalt council last night he had been advised by Alderman Gadsden, chairman of the Greater Victoria Airport Committee, that Equilmalt would not be asked to share in the purchase of property on the Gordon Head airport site. "I held my peace," he commented.

Equilmalt council has passed a resolution authorizing expenditure of $250 for building a dog pound with gas chamber, three stalls for the use of the police department in impounding cars, and a fence, all to be placed at the rear of the municipal hall. Salvage materials are to be used throughout.

Equilmalt has given first reading to a by-law to regulate sanitary conditions in restaurants. It is similar to that enforced in Victoria.

Lowest tender on a garbage collector body for Equilmalt of $2,888 has been accepted.

A request to Equilmalt council from the Canadian Legion, Dockyard Branch, for permission to hold a carnival to raise building funds was left in the hands of Reeve Hadfield and Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe.

Veteran-Labor Housing Meet In City Oct. 20

The Canadian Legion, Victoria, and District Trades and Labor Council, and the Victoria Labor Council will jointly sponsor a conference on the housing situation in the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion on October 20. It was announced last night.

All trade unions, veterans' organizations, church societies, Chamber of Commerce, fraternal associations, educational and service organizations will attend the party.

A statement issued by the Victoria Veteran-Labor Joint Conference Committee stated: "All the authorities who are in a position to know the facts agree that the housing situation from the viewpoint of the young married couple with small children is worse today than it has ever been. The older groups in our community who are living on fixed incomes are also in a tragic position as costs climb and accommodation becomes scarcer."

"While people with substantial incomes can obtain new homes through recognized and orthodox channels such as are provided by private sales and established building firms, the rising costs prevent the lower income groups mentioned from obtaining homes through these sources. The lack of decent housing for the families who provide most of the children at present time plays an overwhelming part in the rising tide of divorce and crime which is literally undermining our civilization," the statement continues.

The sponsors of the conference feel that the general public is still alive to the seriousness of the situation outlined and hope to bring the subject to light at the conference on Sunday.

McGeer Says Britain, U.S. "Guardians of Freedom"

If Russia and United States are "unable to get along" then Canada is "in for an interesting time," Senator G. G. McGeer declared yesterday in stressing the close relationship between Canada and the United States.

"Joe Stalin can't get at you without getting at us," he told American members of the audience while speaking to the convention of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference in the Empress Hotel.

Speaking after Bishop Harold E. Sexton, who gave the invocation, Senator McGeer was introduced by Ald. Edward Williams.

He suggested that Russia was not as hard to get along with as was being suggested in some quarters in the United States.

A man of Marshal Stalin's capacity would remember well what happened to Hitler, and Senator McGeer hoped the boys in Moscow think it over before tangling with the American Eagle and the British Lion.

These two nations were the guardians of freedom won after hundreds of years of struggle, he said. Neither consigned, critical editors to the salt mines or allowed a secret police organization to take a man from his backyard never to be heard of again.

Freedom in the democracies, however, must be based on the realization by the people that they have the things that are worth while, the most important of which was a good, healthful home and security.

SAYS PEOPLE CLAIM DANGER FROM MOSCOW
Many people claimed that the danger to the world today was from Moscow, he said. But if the impotence and poverty of the depression of the '30s, and those before was ever again allowed to develop, the greater danger to freedom was from our own public men.

"We who can finance unlimited war, cannot say we cannot uphold freedom," he declared.

The discussion arose when a letter from the city welfare department was read advising the council that nursing home care for a lady would cost the municipality $30 a month.

Reeve Thomas Hadfield said he would like to know why the cost of care was so high.

Councillor Ellis explained that many nursing homes had been converted during the war to the more profitable business of being rented as apartments and rooms.

SAVE SOME FOR Yourself!

IT'S a melancholy thought... but isn't it true that you are always the last to share in your monthly earnings?

There's the butcher, the baker, the coal-man, the landlord. There's that new mattress for Mary, or Junior's dental bill. All it takes is an unexpected "extra" or two and—bang!

where's that money you so carefully had earmarked for savings?

Yet here's an interesting thing. All through the war you proved, with your Victory Bond purchases, that you could "save some for yourself". In fact, you saved a surprisingly large amount.

You proved, too, that a back-log of savings "does things" to you. It gives a lift to your self-respect... to your sense of getting somewhere. It makes you feel less vulnerable—makes you more willing and able to grasp opportunity

Community Chest

The human appeal behind the Community Chest this year is that there remains a good deal of dislocation, distress and uncertainty in the scrambled living conditions of today for those who are displaced from their homes elsewhere in Canada. In the Greater Victoria community there are established families. It is one thing to be fit and well in a community such as this, and another to be ill, alone and without close friends. There are not a few such, as a review of the work of the Community Chest agencies would disclose. Beyond health and shelter, there are all the pressures which operate in any postwar period, and which are intensified today through the shrinkage of the value of the postwar dollar.

In due course the list of agencies supported by the Community Chest will be laid before the public, with a digest of their work. It will be found that these are the agencies which have been providing a great deal of necessary community service in this district for a good many years. A few new agencies have been added, but all of them are concerned with relief of the practical difficulties today in family life and social welfare. Nor can this work be permitted to lapse. It must be maintained, and at a productive, effective level.

In the old days it was simple enough to appeal to private purses to make good on such deficiencies, and a good deal of that still is being done. On the other hand, community service is a community effort, and should justly be shared by all citizens who have the means and ability to do so. The sum of $100,000 is being asked this time to fill the authentic needs of the Community Chest in this area. The response should be immediate and generous, from those whose personal lot is more favored than is probably the case in any other country in the world.

Out of plenty must be made essential provision for the wants of the needy if we as a community are to sleep with a clear conscience at night. The main drive this year will be made between October 1 and 8, but the advance appeal will begin this week with the solicitation of those who should be in a position to help. These are emergent, trying times, and there is no service which returns as full value for the investment as a helping hand to those who need it in the aftermath of the second world conflict. Support the Community Chest.

Rebuff to Government

The clear-cut defeat of the Liberal candidate in the Pontiac, Quebec, by-election will no doubt be regarded by Governmental forces in private as a sharp setback. That is how it will be assessed generally by the rest of Canada. The Pontiac vote was the first test of public opinion since the Federal general election of June, 1945, in a constituency which except for one interval had returned a Liberal candidate continuously since 1917. The reversal of opinion speaks for itself as an appraisal of the failure of Governmental policy within the last twelve months.

While returns are not yet complete, the victory of Mr. Real Caouette, running under the standard of L'Union des Electeurs and espousing Social Credit theories, is indicated decisively with 10,515 votes from 262 out of 274 polls reported. This is almost double the votes he received as a straight Social Credit candidate a year ago. By comparison, the Liberal vote dropped from 13,265, just under half of the votes cast in 1945, to 2,896, approximately a third of the total vote. Another casualty of the by-election was the C.C.F. party, whose 2,386 votes of a year ago were cut to 1,736.

Progressive Conservatives, while not making any pronounced gain in popular strength in Pontiac, increased their tally from 6,158 a year ago to 6,893 votes, with probably some more yet to be added. The Labor Progressive Party, which did not promote a candidate in the Federal election a year ago, ran last in Monday's election, recording only 472 votes in favor of their nominee.

The result of the Pontiac vote marks a decided decline in Liberal support in a stronghold regarded as traditionally safe by the Government's supporters. It is a commentary on the vacillating policies of the present Federal Cabinet, and the latter's inability to come to grips successfully with many of the postwar problems facing the country. The Pontiac by-election is likely to be the forerunner of others returning a similar verdict.

We don't suppose that the Mackenzie King administration will admit the loss of prestige in the first by-election since the general poll. The Government, by ex-parte application to the Privy Council, has already altered the constitution of the country by adding more seats to the House of Commons, the bulk of them in the Province of Quebec. By that process, the Administration could go on losing by-elections and still retain a majority in the House. It is a process, however, which has annoyed the people, and that is beginning to tell.

Sir James Jeans

The passing of Sir James Jeans, at Dorking, Surrey, removes one of the foremost scientists of the day; a man whose contributions in mathematics, physics and astrophysical matters were outstanding even in an age of brilliant scientific advance and development. Known to thousands of people for his lucid explanation of the stellar universe, written in popular form, Sir James Jeans was one of the leading men of his time in his special fields of study. Some of his works are texts in modern science, and the popularization of his theories gave enjoyment to countless numbers of people.

James Hopwood Jeans was born at London, England, in 1877. He was educated at Cambridge, where he graduated with distinguished honors. He held the post of Stokes lecturer in applied mathematics at Cambridge, and also that of professor of applied mathematics at Princeton. In 1919 he was appointed as secretary to the Royal Society, and won its gold medal for his book in that year on "Problems of Cosmogony and Stellar Dynamics." It was his genius, also, to take scientific subjects out of their glass cases and to explain what they meant to the world. Books such as "The Universe Around Us" were enormously popular and successful.

Sir James' contributions to science were prolific and far-reaching. They concerned gravitation, kinetic theory, the behavior of gases, distribution of energy, radiation, and theories on the most advanced problems in stellar dynamics. He contributed much original work in astronomy, notable in connection with the binaries, spiral nebulae and the evolution of gaseous stars. For the popular works he wrote with a clear prose style which endeared him to readers everywhere; and with them he left more than one glowing phrase, such as that when he likened the universe to "a thought in the mind of God."

Linked by Delay

Perhaps it was some adherence of medieval belief that buildings of importance should be erected by leisurely processes that caused architects of the Department of Public Works to be in no hurry to finish inscribing the cornerstone of the Peace Tower at Ottawa. How else explain the 27-year delay in adding only four figures to those already chiselled to mark its installation.

An item in The Ottawa Journal tells the story. The five-ton cornerstone of the centre block at the base of the Peace Tower has these past 27 years borne the inscription: "This stone was laid by Edward Prince of Wales, September 1, this year of victory. Finis Ornat Opus." That was all. The year of victory was not dated. Why it was never completed when all that had to be added were the figures "1919" is a mystery locked up in the files of the department. The omission was not unnoticed, but all through the intervening years until last week it went uncorrected.

Today the project is complete. A stone-mason has added the "1919" in nice, clean granite that will make marked contrast until the elements harmonize the date with the rest of the weathered inscription.

The incident is not without some compensation. If the date was omitted in the year of victory that was intended, it has been imprinted in another year of victory, to which in years to come the Peace Tower will also bear witness. By its unaccountable delay, therefore, the department has unconsciously linked the remembrance of two wars and the sacrifice of two generations.

Seen in Passing

The Victoria-Seattle air route is one of the oldest on this seaboard. It was pioneered by the Victoria Branch of the former Air League of Canada in 1919 and 1920; flown for ten years steadily by the late Edward Hubbard in the Boeing flying boat service, carrying mail and mail; and was the object of one or two starts since then that were not carried through. When planes of the T.C.A. commenced their thrice-daily service between the two ports on November 1, Victoria will come within a two-hour trip of Portland, Oregon, including taxi connections.

To Me a Kingdom Is

My mind to me a kingdom is;
Such present joys therein I find
That it exceeds all other bliss
That earth affords or grows by kind
Though much I want that most would have Yet still my mind forbids to crave.

No princely pomp, no wealthy store,
No face to win the victory,
No wit to win the prize,
No shape to feed a loving eye,
To none of these I yield as thrall,
For what? My mind doth serve for all.

I see how plenty suffers oft,
And hasty climbers soon do fall;
I see that those which are aloft
Musthap doth threaten most of all;
They get with toil, they keep with fear,
Such cares my mind could never bear.

Content I live, this is my stay;
I seek no more than may suffice;
I press to beat no haughty way;
Look, what I lack my mind supplies.
Lo, thus I triumph like a king,
Content with that my mind doth bring.

Some have too much, yet still do crave,
I little have, and seek no more;
They are but poor though much they have,
And I am rich with little store.
They poor, I rich; they beg, I give;
They lack, I leave; they pine, I live.

The Third Column

By TOM TAYLOR

"WITHOUT UNDERSTANDING"

It may be true, as a British official commented with some dryness, that Elliott Roosevelt was "a boy listening without understanding to men's talk," but unfortunately the book written by President Roosevelt's second son cannot be dismissed so lightly as that remark might imply. Not even the foreword written by his mother and containing these significant words: "I am quite sure that many of the people who heard many of the conversations recorded herein interpreted them differently, according to their own thoughts and beliefs," denies the probable truth of at least some of the statements and quotations in Elliott Roosevelt's "As He Saw It," a record of F. D. R. during the war.

Because of his relationship the author had a privileged position at some of the conferences between the "Big Three." He enjoyed many private talks with his father about these conferences, the tenor of which occupy a prominent place in the story currently running in Look Magazine. This is a condensed serial version of the book, but sufficient has already been published to cause a reaction not untimed with deep regret.

In Great Britain, President Roosevelt has been almost revered as her greatest friend in a period of stark adversity. His memory until now has been evergreen to grateful Britons.

REVERSAL OF VIEWPOINT

It will shock them profoundly to learn that six months after sending Prime Minister Churchill the famous Longfellow message: "Humanity with all its fears . . . is hanging breathlessly on my fate!" the President should open his very first wartime meeting with Churchill with a demand that the postwar structure of the British Empire be changed. The Empire, as F. D. R. told his son the night before, was "not so good for American trade."

By the late Summer of 1941, of course, the world had been made comparatively safe from Hitler, solely because of the herculean efforts of that same British Empire, but the swift reversal of viewpoint is nevertheless startling. Churchill reacted violently, as might have been expected since he had not, as he once said, become the First Minister of the Crown in order to preside over the Empire's dissolution. Surely the odd feature of the whole war is that the Commonwealth which prevented it, from being lost should be expected to accept disintegration as a reward.

According to his son's recital this was a subject to which the President returned again and again. Seemingly it dominated his thoughts. QUESTIONABLE TASTE

A year and a half later at Casablanca in the presence of Churchill and so minor a figure as the Sultan of Morocco he attacked British and French colonial interests, a proceeding under the circumstances of surprising and questionable taste, unless the reason lay in his suggestion to the Sultan that American engineers be engaged to carry out oil developments in Morocco.

What is one to make of F. D. R.'s remark to his son that "Americans wouldn't be dying in the Pacific but for the shortsighted greed of the French, British and the Dutch," just as though there had been no Pearl Harbor. Or of his comment at Casablanca on British plans to recapture Burma that "it's the first time they've shown any interest in the Pacific War," an observation many thinking people will consider both unfair and strangely fatuous for a statesman of Roosevelt's calibre.

It is at least unfortunate to learn, also, that the American chiefs of staff seriously considered in August, 1941, that it would be better to give the lion's share of lend-lease to Russia rather than Britain, on the grounds that tanks and planes for the Soviet Union would go into action, whereas if they were sent to the United Kingdom they would simply lie on a stockpile. Mr. Elliott Roosevelt's appraisal of the war situation in 1941 must have varied tremendously from that of British authorities, who no doubt would have been delighted to be given the stockpile's location.

ALLEGED CONFLICTS

"As He Saw It" deals at length with alleged conflicts of opinion between the two great leaders, Churchill and Roosevelt. The picture drawn of the British Prime Minister, with barbs in every sentence almost, is so biased that it is colored to be taken at face value. One does not commonly look for a son to have a bias against his father, however, which is what makes the revelations about the President so disconcerting.

Albeit unwittingly Elliott Roosevelt has done his father a distinct disservice in disclosing these off-the-record conversations. Admirers of the late President will wish he had kept them out of the record entirely. They only serve to reduce the stature of a man whom the world had come to regard with high esteem as a wise Allied friend and counsellor. As his son depicts him he is a distant, cold, vain person, a disquieting contrast to the millions who will always regard the President as a great man.

The male mosquito is strictly a vegetarian, and does not bite.

Pilots Have Rough Ride at Speed of Sound

By E. C. SHEPHERD

London Sunday Times Aviation Expert

North American Newspaper Alliance

LONDON, Sept. 17.—(By Cable).—Royal Air Force flyers who again have broken the world's speed record and established a new mark of 618 miles per hour report that flying at that speed over 590 m.p.h. is a tough proposition.

Group Capt. E. W. Donaldson and Squadron Leader W. A. Waterlen, the record-breakers, say that even on a day of smooth air—a great rarity—the Gloster Meteors felt like wooden-wheeled bicycles ridden fast over cobblestones. Up to 590 m.p.h. they rode steadily enough, while above 600 m.p.h. they developed short, sharp bumps—and all the time the throttles were wide open, the pilot was rattled about in the cockpit.

The Meteor was using all the power it could use. Two Rolls-Royce Derwent V gas turbines, capable of developing 4,200 horsepower of static thrust—each the equivalent of over 12,000 horsepower—had brought the Meteor to the limit of its performance.

The actual speed marking that limit will vary with the temperature of the air, but the relation of that speed to the speed of sound always will be the same. On September 7, when an average speed of 618 m.p.h. was achieved by Donaldson, the temperature was low, about 57 degrees Fahrenheit; consequently the speed of sound was down to about 754 m.p.h. If the temperature had risen to 86 degrees, the speed of sound would have risen to 760 m.p.h., and the average speed of Donaldson's Meteor would have been about 632 m.p.h., using the same amount of power.

IN GREAT BRITAIN

Sir,—Referring to my letter of August 24, from remarks I have heard I do not think many people here realize the plight of Great Britain unless they have relatives there. Perhaps it will give such a better idea if I quote from a letter received recently: "This dreadful bread ration muddle! The hours and hours we stand in queues—for what? Bread with so much staling that it is wet, sour and nauseating, even when fresh, and impossible to eat next day. When it is toasted you just can't swallow it. The smell is like that of damp rags. Do not be deceived by pictures of loads of bread being wasted—if it were at all edible it would all be used—there is not a big ration but people just can't get it down."

I went for my bacon ration today—there was no meat—after standing for half an hour I got three finger-sized pieces—four pence—for three people. Butter is often almost unobtainable and cooking fat or shortening unobtainable, but we are allowed one egg a week if we can get it. There is no shopping around, you must go to one store, if they don't have it, well you go without. Blackberries are three shillings a pound, peaches, green or hard, were 10 shillings for three. The last bananas we had was in 1939 and

Observation Car

By G.R.

Parking meters on two of the main streets in the neighboring city of Port Angeles are producing substantial revenue. The rate is one cent for 15 minutes between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m., or five cents per hour.

The licensing of bicycles reduced the number of thefts. Restaurants boldly display dispensers of granulated sugar on tables and counters. The average price of a very ordinary meal without soup is 75c. Food stores have large quantities of peanut butter, cheese, pickles and cooked meat, which fetches the per cent. French meat, bread, cut-runs, shortening, lard and salad dressing are scarce. Unrationed butter is plentiful at prices up to 84c per pound. There are plenty of boxes of chocolates and cellophane packages of candy. Chocolate-range between 41c and 53c per pound. Cigarettes are not heavily taxed, and sell at various prices up to 30c for two packets. There is no shortage of cigars, and ones of excellent quality may be purchased two for 21c. Women's stockings are scarce, but there is plenty of lingerie. All sizes of camera film are displayed by drug stores. Bourbon and Scotch whisky are hard to get, but gin, wine, beer, rum, etc., and liquors are plentiful. A visitor is able to obtain a 50-cent liquor permit without difficulty and carry away enough to float a rowboat, but Canadian customs officers keep a sharp lookout for bulging pockets on one's return to Canadian soil. Top quality 90-proof gin may be purchased for $3.00 per quart, including a substantial state tax. It is easily obtained as strong as that sold in Canada for $3.30 per bottle. Department stores are well stocked with knitting wool in many colors. There is no shortage of men's sport shirts in attractive colors, and sleeveless sweaters, but dress shirts and woolen socks are extremely scarce. Port Angeles is a bustling city that has grown a lot since 1929. With a huge pulp mill, several busy sawmills and many fertile farms on the outskirts the future is assured.

Putnam Attends Armstrong Fair

Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam, who attended the opening of the Armstrong Fair yesterday, will leave the Okanagan centre tomorrow and be back in Victoria Saturday.

The minister was accompanied by Dr. J. B. Munro, deputy minister, who will go on to attend the annual meeting of the British Columbia Honey Producers' Association in Nelson on September 24 before returning to Victoria.

Montgomery Removal From Over-All Command Prolonged War Beyond 1944, Writer Charges

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—A condensation of Col. R. S. Malone's forthcoming book "Missing From the Record" appears in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post under the heading "You Yanks Never Gave Monty His Due."

Col. Malone, who was Canadian liaison officer with Field Marshal Montgomery's staff, attributes prolongation of the war beyond 1944 to the fact that Field Marshal Montgomery was removed from over-all command of Allied field forces and thereafter was unable to get American divisions for his planned breakthrough into Germany.

Col. Malone, who served with the Canadian Army from 1939 to 1945, doubts that the split in command in September was according to pre-arranged plan, and comments:

"Victory . . . appears to be imminent and Gen. Eisenhower's main headquarters was still located back in England."

"This would mean that a British general would be in command of all the Allied armies on the Continent when surrender came. It is possible that this state of affairs was not acceptable to Washington, regardless of Monty's ability."

"There is some confirmation for this view in the sudden, hurried move of G.H.A.F.F. (Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force) offices from London to Paris about the same time as Monty was relieved of his over-all command."

"In my mind the move was dictated through a vain desire to get the headquarters set up and established on the Continent before the surrender came."

PLAN DICTATED FROM WASHINGTON

"The refusal to loan Monty a few American divisions at the time of Arrhen, and the refusal to support his plan for clearing the west bank of the Rhine, I can only attribute to a policy perhaps dictated to Gen. Eisenhower through Gen. Marshall in Washington."

"Instead of exploiting the brilliant British success which had carried our forces to the border of Germany, the American divisions, against every military principle, would be employed to attack the enemy equally on all fronts. The Arrhen operation was allowed to fail."

Col. Malone comments that it might be said "Monty's only serious tactical error during the war was his failure to visit the United States before 'D' Day" and why an American following."

He says that "on the top-level Roosevelt, Churchill, Eisenhower and Montgomery unquestionably made super-human efforts to maintain harmony and trust between the Allies."

Alexander Is Trouble Shooter For British Labor Government

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—RA. Hon. Albert V. Alexander, 61, who once said it was a greater thing to be a Baptist lay preacher than First Lord of the Admiralty, has become the Labor Government's chief trouble-shooter.

This solemn-voiced, sturdy man, who likes to sing sea shanties and make speeches, succeeded Winston Churchill as First Lord in 1940 and held the office throughout the war, making clear by dress and manner of speaking that he took Churchill as his model of wartime behavior.

When Labor ministers decided the Coalition Government should be broken up before the end of the Japanese war, Mr. Alexander made it plain he was sorry the association between Labor and Conservative statesmen could not continue longer.

But, the decision being made, he went along with the Labor chiefs, was frankly critical of Conservative policies, bade the navy a warm farewell in May and hustled back as First Lord after the Labor general election victory in July.

Prime Minister Attlee and his advisers depended on Mr. Alexander to carry a heavy share of election campaign speeches and then set him to work meeting impatient delegations after the Government took office.

"There may have been times when Monty doubted Eisenhower's tactical wisdom, but he stated repeatedly that he was 'a gift from God.'"

Dealing with failure in the Italian campaign of the original plan to draw German reserves into the toe of the Italian boot and then slice Italy in half from Salerno, Col. Malone says:

"Monty struck up through the mountains of Italy and, in a period of only 11 days, covered a distance of more than 250 miles (over 400 miles by road) to bring aid to the 5th Army."

"This spectacular advance by one British and one Canadian division is a feat unequalled by any Allied force during the entire war."

"American criticism both then and now were in extremely bad taste, for undoubtedly this small force of men under Monty's command was largely responsible for securing the much-advertised Salerno assault."

Col. Malone discusses Montgomery's personality, relating that on one occasion he was "exceedingly rude" to Gen. Mark Clark of the United States 5th Army and that on another he refused to receive a visit in Italy from Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, Canadian Corps commander. Gen. Crerar, who had come over from Sicily, visited 1st Canadian Divisional headquarters instead and, by so doing, says Col. Malone, "undoubtedly acted in the interest of Allied solidarity, as others had done in overlooking similar affronts."

Eskimos Are Happy 'Leave Them Alone'

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17 (CP)—Bishop Martin of Saskatchewan last night told the Winnipeg Kinmen Club that "the Eskimos are a happy people on their own—in God's name leave them alone."

He appealed to the white man to keep from influencing the northern native Canadians.

The Anglican bishop said the Eskimos were a happy, hard-working race of people, living off the land and completely independent from the outside world.

Canada Opposes Russian Aims For Compulsion in Repatriation

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 17 (CP)—Canada told the United Nations Economic and Social Council today that no compulsion should be employed to force "genuine refugees" to return to their native lands against their wishes, a course urged by Russia as one means of solving the problem of Europe's 1,000,000 displaced persons.

While agreeing with Russia that repatriation should be the "primary object" of the proposed interim commission to be set up by the council to resettle and repatriate the world's homeless, Hon. Paul Martin, Canadian foreign minister, said that "no genuine refugee should be forced to return to his place of origin against his will."

Mr. Martin added: "With these qualifications in mind I agree with our Soviet colleague that repatriation should be encouraged to the full but under no circumstances must compulsion be permitted."

Mr. Martin termed "too pretentious, too costly," a plan for an all-embracing international refugee organization. "We can do it spending less money," he said.

The 18-power council for four days has been discussing the problem of the millions of homeless persons left in the wake of the World War. The Secretary of State, Canada's delegate, told the 18-power body today:

"The Canadian Government believes in the following principles:

1. The problem of refugees is an international responsibility.
2. Repatriation should be carried out to the fullest extent possible.
3. No genuine refugee should be forced to return to his place of origin against his will.
4. No aid should be extended to war criminals, quislings or traitors."

Mr. Martin added: "With these qualifications in mind I agree with our Soviet colleague that repatriation should be encouraged to the full but under no circumstances must compulsion be permitted."

Mr. Martin termed "too pretentious, too costly," a plan for an all-embracing international refugee organization. "We can do it spending less money," he said.

Staff of Buckingham Palace Now Belongs to Trade Union

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP)—Off duty from Buckingham Palace, a lordly footman shorn of his finery was enjoying a quiet glass of beer in the tavern "around the corner" when a newspaperman upset his equilibrium.

"Excuse me, but are you a member of a trade union?" the reporter asked.

The footman set down his glass and surveyed the questioner in frozen horror.

"Good heavens, no," he replied in awed tones.

That was two months ago. Things have moved fast since then, for now it is claimed that the "closed shop" has been established at Buckingham Palace—quietly and without opposition from the controllers of the Royal household.

All 220 servants, male and female, on the palace domestic staff recently joined the Civil Service Union and the Civil Service Union now has become affiliated with the Trades Union Council.

Passport Clerk Committed To Jury Trial

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Magistrate Glenn Strick today decided sufficient evidence had been submitted by the Crown to commit William M. Pappin, clerk in the Ottawa passport office, to trial by jury on charges arising from attempts to obtain a false passport for a Soviet agent seeking to enter Canada.

Magistrate Strick indicated he would formally commit Pappin September 23 when a date for the trial also would be set.

The magistrate's decision came after Mrs. Adrienne Soule, star witness in the two-day preliminary hearing, testified he had asked her in August, 1945, for an 8-year-old file containing documents on a 1927 passport issued to Ignacy Witczak, a Polish-born Canadian who fought in the Spanish civil war that year.

That was the file which the Royal Commission on espionage contended had been tampered with to facilitate the issuance of the false passport, which was to be used by a Russian agent living in Los Angeles.

The Russian ring believed Witczak had died in the Spanish war but he actually returned to Canada.

Mrs. Soule, in charge of the passport office files, said Pappin had asked for the Witczak file, kept with other old files in a church basement, twice, once in May, 1945, and later in August of that year.

Anglo-Argentine Agreement Signed

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Britain and Argentina signed a trade and financial agreement today settling their differences on sterling payments, most purchases and British-owned Argentine railways and agreeing to continue an expired trade treaty until a new one can be negotiated, the British Government announced.

The agreement, signed in Buenos Aires, was published simultaneously in London by the British Central Office of Information. The agreement came after weeks-long conferences which several times were near a breakdown.

Gambling Ship Seized at Sea

LONG BEACH, Calif., Sept. 17 (AP)—The U.S. Justice Department, taking Tony Corneo Strall's word for it that his gambling ship Bunker Hill is on the high seas, sent some 70 Coast Guard bluejackets aboard the vessel today and seized it under the admiralty laws.

As the Coast Guardmen entered the vessel's luxurious casino, roulette wheels stopped running, dancing dice came to rest and ooker hands were discarded. The party was over for some 500 beguilers of Lady Luck, many of whom had spent the night aboard.

U.S. Attorney James M. Carter said condemnation proceedings would be instituted on grounds that the craft is engaged in operations other than that for which it was licensed—coastwise trade.

"What about my new car?"

Your dealer would be a happy man if he could give you the exact delivery date of your new car. Even if that date were six months away, it would give you something definite to go on. But he can't because we can't tell him how many cars will be delivered to him this year . . . or even this month.

The main reason is shortage of materials. Not only our own, but those of 1,200 feeder plants from whom we buy. Our expeditors are searching the country trying to keep our slender supply of materials from running out: "When can we get steel?" . . . "Where can we find tires?" . . . "How soon can we get textiles?"

In spite of all our efforts, this year's production looks like a child's sandpile against the mountain of urgent orders for new cars and trucks . . . more than a four-year accumulation of demand. Now and then, for short periods, our output resembled our pre-war production. Now dwindling stockpiles have already forced us to adopt a three-day work week. And by the time you read this, production of cars and trucks may have entirely ceased.

It isn't a bright picture, but we think Canadians would rather have cold facts. So the answer to your question about your new car is really out of our hands.

This problem can't be solved overnight. But whenever materials are available, our assembly lines will be moving—no, matter how difficult or complicated the job may be.

Women Doing Last Canadian Red Cross Jobs in Europe

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Sept. 17 (CP).—In the still-ruined towns through which Canadians fought in Normandy, three women representing the Canadian Red Cross are distributing new clothing to needy French families.

The three, doing one of the last Canadian Red Cross jobs in Europe, are Marion Bigelow and Margaret Evans, of Vancouver, and Claire Watson of Montreal.

Their headquarters are at Bayeux, west of Caen, and although their area extended from Rouen on the Seine to Cherbourg, they are particularly interested in the Caen and Falaise areas where great Canadian actions were fought.

Mrs. Georges Vanier, wife of the Canadian Ambassador to France, initiated the work after a visit to the battlefields area which impressed her with the urgent need for clothing.

Yesterday afternoon, Madame L. G. d'Estre, representing the Children of France Society, officially welcomed Canon Loring to Victoria.

He will be the guest of His Excellency Bishop James Hill during his visit. On Friday evening he will speak at the Little Art Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cunningham, Ganges, were hosts yesterday at the tea hour, on the occasion of their tenth wedding anniversary. The room and table were attractively arranged with bowls of pink and yellow roses and pink and white stocks, and the anniversary cake was decorated in white and cream, mounted by candles. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burdett, Mrs. Mary Dods, Mr. and Mrs. V. Case Morris, Major and Mrs. F. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Saur, Miss Lucy Burdett and Miss Hilary Purdy.

Employment Field for Women Reviewed By Mrs. L. Leonard

The travelers and committee of the Y.W.C.A. met on Tuesday and heard a comprehensive report from Mrs. L. Leonard on the present employment field for women in Victoria.

Mrs. Leonard pointed out that while the number of women registered for employment almost equals the number of employers' orders, there are some women who are difficult to place on account of lack of training and experience, and there are many unfilled orders in the occupations not so attractive to women.

Miss E. M. Bruce gave the report of a sub-committee on the employment of household workers. Miss Bruce said that "the raising of the minimum wage in every class of employment is making household work even less attractive to women who ordinarily would seek that type of occupation, and at the same time is making it more difficult for the householder."

She pointed out that in many of the larger cities household workers are already organizing their own unions.

The work of the Y.W.C.A. is partly financed by the Community Chest, whose campaign opens October 1.

My Neighbor Says

Keeping the top burners of your gas stove clean is important. If only a few holes in the burner are clogged, use any small object such as a pipe cleaner wire or hairpin to clean them out. The flame will then burn evenly. When burners are thoroughly cleaned, wash them in warm soapy water. They should be rinsed thoroughly and the water in them shaken out and burners dried thoroughly before they are put back in position.

Meet Victoria United Under Arclights At Royal Athletic Park on Saturday

Saturday will mark an important soccer milestone in Victoria. On that day at Royal Athletic Park, soccer will be played under the lights for the first time in the city and inter-city competition will return with Victoria United making its 1946 debut in the Pacific Coast League with Vancouver North Shore United providing the opposition.

Province and Mainland Cup winners last season, North Shore will provide a stiff test for the Victoria eleven, who are still in the organizational stage with Manager Ralph Cosier probably unable to get his strongest club on the field in time for the opener.

Line-up of the visiting squad reveals little change from the powerful aggregation which swept up most of the Province's soccer honors last season and culminated a most successful year by taking four straight games in an exhibition series at Winnipeg.

Stan Laycock will guard the nets protected by Tom Cumming and Bob Harrison, two outstanding backs. Veteran centre-half Lee Morley will be flanked by Bob Hunter and Billy Smith, a pair of young and speedy wing halves.

Up front, the familiar names of Don Matheson, Jimmy Spencer and Trev Harvey stand out as the nucleus of a smooth and dangerous attacking unit. Spencer scored three goals in the P.C.L. opener at Vancouver last Saturday and will start at inside left with Harvey at centre forward and Matheson at inside right. Sid Gossie and Bill Gemmell are at the outside berths with Walt Zilekzi available for utility duty.

COSIER TO SELECT TEAM FOR YOUNG WORKOUT

Final line-up of the Victoria eleven will be decided following the final training session tomorrow night.

Bobby Moss will be between the posts with Bobby Bell and Ken Druce likely to start on the back line. Manager Cosier will choose his halfbacks from Red McMillan,

A. H. Cox Heads J.B.A.A. Rugby Club

A. H. Cox was elected president of the J.B.A.A. Rugby Club at its annual meeting in the Central Building last night as a large and enthusiastic turnout laid plans for what is expected to be a banner season.

Two former playing stars, Frank Doherty and Tom Carney, were elected as vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively. Bert Buller was the unanimous choice as manager with Joe Andrews named as coach of the senior entry. Joe Roberts was named coach and manager of the J.B.A.A. intermediate fifteen. Buller and Andrews will represent the club at Victoria Rugby Union meetings.

Prospects for the coming season were reported as extremely good, and officials are predicting an even stronger senior club than the one which captured the Barnard and Rownsfield Cups last year, emblematic of the V.R.U. and British Columbia championships respectively.

A minute's silence in tribute to the memory of the late Bob McInnes, former J.B.A.A. manager and one of the most respected figures in Victoria Rugby, was observed.

Primo Carnera To Wrestle Here Saturday

Primo Carnera, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world and now touring the continent as a wrestler, will headline a mat show at the Bay Street Armory on Saturday night. Matchmaker Rocky Brooks announced last night.

The towering Italian, who measures six feet seven inches and weighs 278 pounds, has proved a popular drawing card in his recent tour, during which he hopes to recoup some of the lost fortune made in his palmer days as a fighter.

He will be matched with Babe Sharky, the Texas bad man, in the feature bout of a strong card in a best-two-out-of-three falls with a one-hour time limit.

In the semi-windup, the popular Sambo Indian, Chief Thunderhead, will return to a Victoria ring to do battle with "Mile-High" Bob, the bearded giant, in a match that should rival the main event.

Rounding out an excellent program, Hardy Krusecamp will tackle Mel Peters, best-two-of-three falls with a 45-minute time limit, and Reg Hopkins and Pat Griffin, two speedy Victoria grapplers, will tangle in a 30-minute, one-fall bout.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 17 (CP).—The cellar-dwelling Portland Beavers dumped the Pacific Coast League leading San Francisco Seals, 4-3.

Short Night's Work Says Joe Of Title Bout With Mauriello

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP).—Joe Louis puts his world heavyweight championship on the line for the 23rd time tomorrow night in Yankee Stadium against the challenge of tough Tami Mauriello and Joe figures it to be a short night's work.

Promoter Mike Jacobs talked the Bomber into taking this one, after Joe had about decided to play golf the rest of the year following his victory over Billy Conn in June. Uncle Mike is looking for 20,000 to 30,000 customers to show up and chip in to a gate within shouting distance of $300,000.

They've been throwing victory celebrations and torchlight parades in the Bronx for Tami in recent days just as if he's swam the English Channel or sat on a flagpole for several days. But practically no one except the Bronx barkeep and his immediate family are giving him any kind of a look-in for this go.

This corner tabs Joe to turn the lights out for Tami inside of three rounds. The local betting boys are quoting even money it will be all over in the first five heats after the Bomber and the barkeep come out at 8 p.m. C.S.T. The 49th Street betting shops are laying you 8 to 1 if you like Mauriello and asking you to invest 10 to 1 if you want to send it in on Louis. If you think Mauriello can kazo the champ, you can get 15 to 1. If you like Louis to wind it up somewhere along the way, you have to put up 17 to win 1. That's how sure the gambling gentlemen are of a windup before the 15-round route is run.

Close Bout Lost By Jackie Turner

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 17 (AP).—Tony Olivera, 119, San Francisco, last night won a close decision over Jackie Turner, 117, Vancouver, B.C., in the ten-round main event of an outdoor boxing card, curtailed because of rain.

The young Canadian met Olivera on virtually even terms throughout the speedy match, and the veteran Californian's edge at the finish was a narrow one.

In preliminary fight little Jimmy Archer, 116, Portland, outpointed Al Wyler, 126, Spokane, in four rounds, and Ron Whalley, 158, Vancouver, outpointed Ken Jackson, 157, Portland, in six rounds.

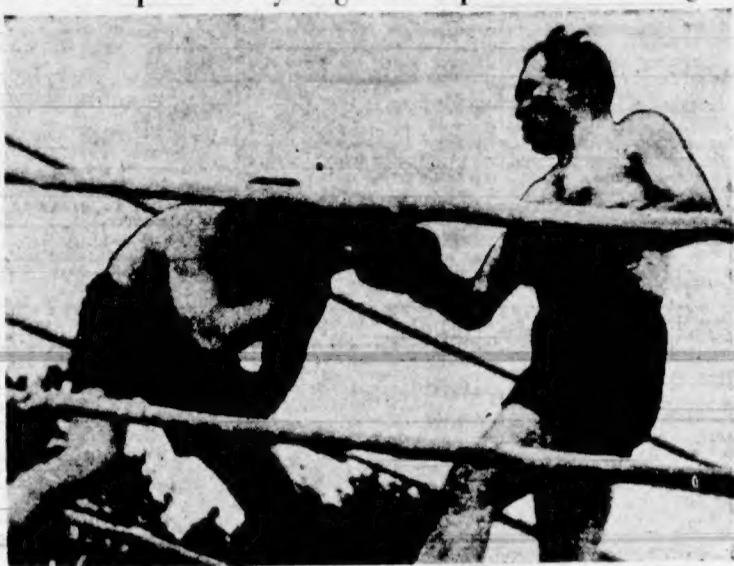

Seen coasting above to newsmen last week effective at the end of the season but Business Manager Larry McPhail, reported slightly put out with the announcement, which came at a time when the Bronx Bomber was battling it out with Detroit for second place, selected Johnny Neuen to take over and Dickey left his old club for good.

Ex-European Heavyweight Champ Returns to Ring

Paulino Uscudun, one-time European heavyweight champion, who had many bouts in the United States, including one with Joe Louis, in which the latter K.O'd him, has once again returned to the ring. Here, the Spanish fighter is pictured in action during his recent fight encounter with Adolfo Diaz, at Madrid, Spain.

Pollet, Slaughter Shine As Cards Maintain Lead

Two games ahead with ten to go was the story of St. Louis Cardinals' fight toward the National League pennant today after the league leaders handed New York Giants a 10-2 pasting yesterday while Brooklyn was downing Chicago, 4-2.

Heading to Boston for their final stop of the last Eastern invasion, the Red Birds were riding high with the first National League 20-game winner of the season in Howie Pollet, southpaw stylist.

The Cards' "stopper" coasted home with No. 20, although hit hard in the late stages, yielding 11 hits in all, eight in the last three innings after his mates had given him a commanding lead. Pollet is the first left-hander to reach the goal since Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton did it for the Giants in 1937.

Enos Slaughter, the Birds' slugging right-fielder, shared the headlines for driving home five runs with a two-run homer, a single and an infield out.

At Brooklyn Leo Durocher's scrappy game sewed the game up in the opening frame by blasting Paul Erickson for four hits and three runs.

Little Vic Lombardi relieved Joe Hatten in the seventh and stopped the Cubs the rest of the way to insure Hatten's 12th victory.

Boston Braves, given only an outside chance by many experts of finishing in the league's first division in the opening frame by blasting Paul Erickson for four hits and three runs.

Miller, Steele Fight to Draw

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 17 (CP).—Before a crowd of 3,000, Johnny Miller of Stockton, Calif., and Freddy Steele of Vancouver, B.C., hard-hitting southpaws, tonight battled in a 10-round draw in the main event of a boxing card here. Miller weighed 128 pounds and Steele 130½.

Steele, the stronger of the two, drew most of his points in the first six rounds due mostly to in-fighting with hard punches to the mid-section, but Miller's lightning fast right hand caught the local and off guard several times.

In the semi-windup, six rounds, Harry Smith, Vancouver, 137 lbs., defeated Leo Sweeney, San Francisco, 139 lbs., by a knockout in the second round.

Sporri Again Rides To Five Victories Some Turley Wins

Veteran rider Emil Sporri and the ageing, but well-conditioned, Some Turley, shared the racing spotlight at the Willows yesterday in what was probably the best card of the ten-day-old meet.

Far ahead in the race for riding honors, Sporri equaled his feat of opening day by booking five mounts into the winners' circle in a sensational riding performance.

Apparently reaching his peak in the twilight of his lengthy career, Sporri showed all of his accumulated riding skill to cop the first four races and then wound up by taking the winner's purse after another well-earned trip on Ascot Gal.

He scored on Foxey Donna in the first and Gold Hen in the second as double figures were posted on the board in each event, resulting in a respectable double return of $77.

Sporri then sent the large chestnut gelding, Bill B., out on top in the third to win easily and came from behind again to take the fourth on the game Pepper Pot to take a photo decision from Easter Pebble.

Despite her great win over the mile route on September 7, when she came within a fraction of the track record, and another bang-up performance last Thursday, when she was only beaten three lengths by Meadowvale Boy, Nalod and Saffworth, Some Turley was again overlooked by racing fans, who established Kinsail and Ever Pretty as favorites in the featured Courtney Allowance.

Starting at odds of almost 6 to 1, the 12-year-old mare was well behind the pace-setting Ever Pretty until the backstretch when she literally ate up yardage to get in the clear coming into the home stretch and win easily with Kinsail chagrined.

Niemiec Awarded $2,884 Settlement

SEATTLE, Sept. 17 (AP).—Judge Lloyd L. Black ruled today that Al Niemiec, second baseman discharged by Seattle Rainiers after returning from naval service, was entitled to a contract settlement of $2,884.50, based on a monthly salary of $750.

Niemiec had sued the Rainiers under the United States Selective Service Act provision that returned servicemen must be re-employed. The court held in his favor some weeks ago, but the amount due him had been in dispute.

Black and Whites Work Out Tonight

200,000 Sockeye Caught Monday

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP).—Fraser River salmon gillnet fleet caught approximately 200,000 sockeye Monday, biggest day's catch in the river in four years.

The flood of fish was equivalent to the catch made last Friday by the 190-boat seiner fleet, which fishes on a mass production basis, in contrast to the gillnetters' smaller-scale fishing methods.

The 200,000-fish catch put about $200,000 into the pockets of the crews of the approximately 3,500 gillnet boats in the river.

Russell Young, operating for B.C. Packers, Ltd., got 600 sockeye, believed to be high catch of the day. Biggest daily catch in 1942, previous cycle of the Adams River sockeye run, was scarcely over 200,000 fish.

Christmas Parcels to Britain Must Not Exceed Eleven Pounds

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP).—Canadians packing gift parcels for the United Kingdom for Christmas, or any other time might remember the British people like to be clean as well as full.

Some soap would be a welcome addition to the food parcels. British officials said the parcels must not exceed 11 pounds, of which only seven can be food and not more than two pounds of any one food. The other four pounds could include necessities like soap and clothing.

Not more than one parcel monthly is allowed and it must be unopened. These regulations are set forth by the Board of Trade which demands import permits for almost everything brought into the United Kingdom apart from gift parcels.

Customs officials said both new and used clothing sent in gift parcels are dutiable. Thus, while the trade board has no objection to clothing being part of the parcel the recipient may have to pay duty. Although money may have been charged duty, it does not necessarily mean they will escape in the future.

Officials said they doubted that from the Dominions continues although there have been recent protests that the parcels have not been received. If regulations are enforced the department has promised to impose the duty on the millions received in the first five months of 1946 only 125 were stopped in that manner.

Officials said they doubted that many parcels had been lost in transit as lengthy delays still occurred in shipments and some who protested that parcels were stolen or had strayed received them later.

British housewives find the food situation more difficult than during the war with bread rationed and reductions in several categories. They find it difficult to make food tasty and orange or lemon peel would help with Christmas cakes. Nuts would be welcome and dried pears, apples or apricots. Some raisins and currants are available here but Canadian chocolate bars, soups, puddings, canned peas and the like remain most acceptable.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP).—Grain futures moved upward toward the close of a dull session today, the swing being attributed to announcement of additional purchases of wheat by the Government, and the strength of September oats at Minneapolis.

Following an announcement by the Commodity Credit Corporation that an additional 3,000,000 bushels of wheat had been purchased here, short covering developed in the wheat pit in a light trade.

Officials said they doubted that from the Dominions continues although there have been recent protests that the parcels have not been received. If regulations are enforced the department has promised to impose the duty on the millions received in the first five months of 1946 only 125 were stopped in that manner.

London Market

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP).—Argentine Railway shares today extended Monday's sharp gains on the Stock Exchange as observers further evaluated reports of the Anglo-Argentine agreement.

The 6 per cent preference stock of Buenos Aires Great Southern advanced three points, and the Pacific 5 per cent debentures gained 6 at 54 at midday.

Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (CP).—The Canadian dollar was up 1-16 at a discount of 3 9-16 per cent in terms of United States funds in foreign exchange dealings today. Ottawa Foreign Exchange Board rates 100 to 100 per cent discount. The pound sterling was up 1-8 at 44.03 1-2.

Rail Earnings Lower

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP).—Canadian Pacific Railway Company today reported earnings for the week ended September 14 at $6,219,000, compared with $6,269,000 in the corresponding period in 1945, a decrease of $50,000, or 24 per cent.

Electoral System Changes Asked

Revision and modernization of the present electoral system was called for by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., speaking Monday night at a meeting of the Esquimalt Liberal Association.

Mrs. Hodges was in favor of a simplified system of compulsory and perpetual registration which would do away with the present unsatisfactory method of pre-election enumeration.

The appointment of a permanent provincial electoral officer also would go far in removing some of the present causes for annoyance, Mrs. Hodges said.

At the Theatres

ATLAS—Paramount's "Miss Susie Slagle's," which ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre, was adapted from August Tuckers popular novel of young doctors in the making. It is an exciting story, vividly told. Joan Caulfield co-stars with Veronica Lake and Sonny Tufts with Lillian Gish prominently featured as the warm-hearted proprietress of a boarding house for young doctors in training.

CAPITOL—In "Cluny Brown," the Theatre New Ernest Lubitch production which stars Charles Boyer and Jennifer Jones, at the Capitol Theatre, Jennifer plays the part of a madcap English girl with an irrepressible urge to be a lady plumber. The 20th Century-Fox film is the first picture to costar Charles Boyer and Jennifer Jones, two of the screen's most provocative personalities.

DOMINION—What you see watch Theatre—ing the film "Johnny Frenchman" at the Dominion Theatre you will see two unsung heroes of this war—two men who between them captured a Nazi ship and brought it to England. You will not recognize them; their names are Jacques and Michel, but there is nothing to distinguish them from the other British fishermen who play in the film, which tells a story of rivalry and romance between the Breton and Cornish fishermen before the war.

PLAZA—Chills and thrills are in "The Spider Woman Strikes Back," latest of Universal's horror dramas which is now showing at the Plaza Theatre. Seen in the bizarre title role is Gale Sondergaard, one of Hollywood's most accomplished character actresses. Kirby Grant and Brenda Joyce are teamed romantically in the supporting cast which has Milburn Stone and Rondo Hatton in conspicuous roles.

ROYAL—Dick Haymes, who started out as a songwriter and became one of the nation's top screen and radio singing stars, has still not given up the idea of becoming a song-writer. Inspired, no doubt, by the fact that in "Do You Love Me," the 20th Century-Fox Technicolor musical now showing at the Royal Theatre, he sings a song written by Harry

Angina Pectoris Patients May Live Long Time

By DR. J. B. WARREN

It was formerly thought that attacks of angina pectoris—the vise-like or gripping pain under breast bone—meant heart disease and impending death. Today it is known that excitement, anger, walking into the cold air, a heavy meal, icy exercise, eat and have control of their emotions, their life line will be as long as the average for their age.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"Companion"—Originally a Table Mate!

One thinks of a companion as one with whom shares one's thoughts, concerns, ambitions—only infrequently in terms of sharing one's meals particularly. But the latter is implicit in the sense of its derivation.

"Companion" is the Latin word with plus panis bread. The earliest usage of the word was for a messmate—one with whom bread was broken. Thence flowed all the corollary relationships of comrade,

PETER MAKES A STARTLING DISCOVERY

Were you ever terribly frightened? If so, you know just how Peter Rabbit felt as he dived under that pile of old treetops just as Hooty the Owl was about to seize him in his great cruel claws. Peter's heart was right up in his mouth. At least that is the way it felt to Peter. He crawled in under the branches, and there he crouched perfectly still. When his heart had quieted down a little Peter felt better. It doesn't take him long to recover from such frights, for he is used to them. They are a part of his daily life. Under that pile of brush he felt perfectly safe.

"I fooled him that time," chuckled Peter. "My, but he certainly did give me a scare! I don't see what he is hanging around here for, anyway." No one he is likely to catch lives around here. I guess the best thing for me to do is to spend the rest of the night here. It certainly won't be safe for me to go out for a long time yet. I've spent a night in worse places than this. I think I'll explore a little underneath this pile of brush and see what it is like."

So Peter Rabbit crept and crawled underneath the great pile of fallen trees until he had nearly reached the centre of the pile. Then as he poked his head out from under a tree at the bottom of the pile he received one of the most startling surprises of his life. His funny little wobbly nose touched something that tickled it so that he sneezed. With a little gasp Peter drew his head back in a hurry. It was the hair of a great fur coat that tickled Peter's nose. There was somebody besides Peter under that great pile of fallen trees. Once more Peter held his breath and once more his heart seemed to come up in his mouth. Then little by little his courage came back.

Whoever it was inside that fur coat, he hadn't moved. He must be asleep. There was a queer smell. Peter's wobbly little nose went back and forth, back and forth, as he tried to make out what that smell was. It was strangely familiar, yet for a little while Peter couldn't quite remember what it was. Then all in a moment Peter recognized it and suddenly he felt as if he wanted to shake into nothing. Peter knew right then who was inside that fur coat. It was Buster Bear. Yes, sir, it was Buster Bear. There wasn't the least doubt about it. Buster Bear was lying there within two inches of Peter's nose. Do you wonder that he wanted to shrink into nothing?

Smuggling of Fish and Livers To U.S. Said Common Practice

Smuggling of fish and fish livers from Canada into the United States has become a "general practice" along the coast, it was reported yesterday by G. A. Yardley, collector of customs here, whose department is now conducting an intensive investigation into the matter.

"We are making this investigation

Clarify Position Of U.S. Citizens Who Lost Status

Leo J. Callanan, United States Consul in Victoria, yesterday clarified the status of citizens of the United States who lost their citizenship under the Nationality Act of 1940 by voting in Canadian political elections between January 13, 1941, and August, 1946.

Such persons may regain United States citizenship by consulting the American Consulate before August 7, 1947.

"The procedure is not involved," said Mr. Callanan. "All that is necessary is proof of former American citizenship, and the taking of a new oath of allegiance."

Vancouver Man Dies Suddenly

G. W. Thompson, 2610 Marine Crescent, Vancouver, formerly managing director of Income Tax Specialists Ltd., died suddenly of a heart attack while playing golf at the Oak Bay Golf Club at approximately 3:50 p.m. yesterday.

Mr. Thompson and his wife were spending a vacation in the city and were staying at the Empress Hotel. His body was discovered on the fifth fairway.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the B.C. Funeral Co. Ltd.

Stowaways Confused With Gunmen

One way to get free passage from Australia to British Columbia is to stow away on a British Columbia-bound freighter.

That's what Bob McKenzie, 18, and Jack Weston, 22, did.

They concealed themselves in a lifeboat on the Derriemully and everything went well until the youths got hungry and gave themselves up to the captain of the ship.

The skipper radioed Sydney that he had a couple of stowaways on board. Sydney police, who had been searching for a couple of gunmen, wirelessly the captain that he was holding two dangerous criminals and it took a lot of talking before the young men convinced the captain and the police that it was a case of mistaken identity.

Both youths worked their way to this province on board the Derriemully and both still are anxious to see all parts of the world, but Australia.

While visiting in Victoria, they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. McKenzie, 2821 Shelbourne Street.

Material Lack Is Blamed On Government

Delegates attending the 24th annual convention of the Pacific Coast Building Officials conference here expressed the opinion yesterday that there was no excuse for the shortage of building materials and that the Government was entirely to blame for the situation.

They maintained that there is lumber, but veterans were unable to obtain any. Delegates termed as "false propaganda" the argument that the lumber was being exported to help the rehabilitation of war-torn countries.

"Everyone knows that the people who really need the lumber are not getting it," a spokesman said. "Only the wealthy people of foreign countries are benefitting, and meanwhile our veterans who fought a war are obliged to go without homes."

One of the main issues coming up at the conference will be the enforcement of building regulations to prevent construction of "jerry" built homes in Canada and the United States.

Delegates arriving at the Empress Hotel yesterday for the opening session said that too many homes were now being built on the grounds that the buildings were only temporary. They were of the opinion that such temporary homes are never demolished but remain for years.

One United States delegate pointed out that contractors were taking advantage of the building boom to erect cheap houses which were a menace to life and property.

NORTH QUADRA SCOUTS
Patrol instruction and games were featured at the regular weekly meeting of the North Quadra Boy Scouts Friday night. Fourteen Scouts, including fathers, proceeded on an overnight hike Saturday. Cooking, mapping, and plotting was taken in the course of training.
